

TEMPLE MILL TIMES

Friday 12th September 2025 Issue no. 2

Message from Mrs Willson

What a strange week with the weather. We seem to have gone from the hottest summer to the wettest September! Fortunately, the children haven't let it dampen their spirits. They have continued their enthusiastic start to the term. Our Butterflies children in Reception have settled in well, and routines have been well established.

Individuality is our focus value for this term and we spoke in assembly about what make us unique. If we could write a recipe about ourself, what ingredients would be included? What makes Temple Mill so special is that each child has their own recipe, they all bring something different and amazing to our school community. They have been sharing with me their special ingredients and what they shared as been inspirational. We have had a 'whole load of love', 'a teaspoon of cuddles', '100g of kindness' and so many more. It is a wonderful moment when you get to see young children understand that we are all special and unique in so many ways. So my question to you all out there is: What would be in your recipe?

Studybugs

Our Trust have decided that we will no longer be using this app. I appreciate it is still live but until our new system is in place, please contact the office via phone or email.

Medway Test

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, many of our Y6 pupils will be sitting their Medway Test. We wish them all the best. Message to Y6s: have a restful weekend and remember you are all AMAZING!

Pupil Leadership

We are very pleased to announce our new head pupils. They have been through an application process which involved a letter of application and formal interview. It was a difficult decision as all of the applications were of a high standard. Our head pupils will support the school leadership with gate duty, assemblies and being role models within our school community. News of our house captains to follow.

Head Pupils:

Grace
Hattie
Mustafa
George

Spelling shed

Super spelling work in Y2 this week. They have been using Spelling Shed to practice what they have been learning in class. They have some exciting spelling competitions coming.

All children from Y2 to Y6 have their own log in. If it does not work or children have lost their details, please speak to the class teacher.
